Keep Password Chaos From Derailing Your Business

"The biggest bottleneck in your workflow is often the password no one remembers.."

Security aside, let's talk about day-to-day reality:

- "Mary's out sick, nobody can log in to payroll."
- "We can't get into the bank portal; who changed the password?"
- "Bob quit—what account passwords did he have?"

That's lost time, missed deadlines, and total dependence on whoever "knows the passwords."
1Password fixes this first.
With 1Password, you've got everything in one secure place.
Authorized people can get to what they need, when they need it—without hunting through emails, notebooks, or old texts.

And Then There's the Security Side...

- Around 80% of company breaches involve weak, reused, or stolen passwords.
- Two out of three people reuse passwords across accounts.
- About 73% of data breaches in small to mid-sized businesses are driven by phishing or stolen credentials.

How 1Password Puts You Back in Control

- Think of 1Password as a single, locked cabinet for every login your business uses.

- Your team gets one secure place for all work passwords, with strong ones created automatically. It autofills logins so staff aren't searching for credentials, and you can share key accounts only with the people who need them.

- When roles change or someone leaves, you (and GTS) can remove access instantly. Employees remember one sign-in — 1Password handles the rest.
